EQUIPMENT / UNIFORM INVENTORY:Sergeant Robert Vaccari*

On Wednesday, February 17, 2021, at approximately 0930 hours, I contacted San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department (SBCSD) Sergeant Robert Vaccari, in the briefing room, at the Hesperia Sheriff's Station, located at 15840 Smoketree Street. Sheriff's Crime Scene Specialist Stephenie Seavey was present while I inventoried Vaccari's equipment.

On Wednesday, February 17, 2021, a lethal force encounter (LFE) occurred in intersection of Catalpa Street and Peach Avenue, Hesperia. A residence located at 17994 Catalpa Street was struck by gunfire during the LFE. Seavey photographed Vaccari in my presence. Vaccari wore his uniform and equipment at the time of the LFE.

Vaccari wore a "Class A" uniform, which consisted of a tan, long-sleeve, button-down shirt, green pants, and black boots. Vaccari did not button the top button of his uniform shirt, which exposed a white undershirt. Vaccari had a microphone for his handheld radio from underneath to his uniform shirt, between the second and third button. The radio's earpiece protruded from the collar of Vaccari's shirt and rested on his left ear. Vaccari had a cloth United States flag sewn above the right breast pocket. Vaccari had a gold colored nameplate pinned underneath the flag. The nameplate had the words "R. Vaccari" in black lettering. The nameplate also had the words "Victor Valley Station" in black lettering.

The nameplate had a silver arrowhead emblem on the right side. Vaccari had a red metal award ribbon pinned on his right breast pocket. The metal award ribbon had "23152" in gold lettering. Vaccari's gold colored San Bernardino County Sheriff's badge was pinned above his left breast pocket. Vaccari had three metal award ribbons pinned above his left breast pocket. The medal award ribbons were colored red and white, green and white, and green and gold. Vaccari's shirt displayed San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department patches on both the right and left shoulders. Vaccari had a green epilate on his right shoulder with the words "MAIT" in red lettering. Vaccari wore a black watch on his left wrist. Vaccari wore black rimmed, Oakley glasses.

Vaccari wore a black basketweave Sam Browne belt, with a silver buckle in the front. Vaccari's equipment on his Sam Browne belt was documented counterclockwise from the buckle, and were as followed:

- Black triple ammunition magazine case, which contained three black Glock magazines
- A key ring with a set of for vehicle keys, and a silver handcuff key attached, placed in a magazine case.
- A black cloth mask hung from a Glock magazine.
- Black plastic holster, which contained a yellow X2 Taser, serial number X300042CT.
- Black basketweave holster, which contained a Rapid Containment Baton.
- Black basketweave radio holster, which contained Vaccari's department-issued handheld radio.
- Black basketweave holster, which contained a small flashlight?
- Black basketweave handcuff case, which contained a single pair of handcuffs inside.
- Black basketweave handcuff case, which contained a single pair of handcuffs inside.
- Black basketweave case, which contained a set of ford vehicle keys.
- Black basketweave case, which contained a small pocketknife.
- Black basketweave holster, which contained Vaccari's department-issued Glock model 21, .45 caliber pistol.
- Black basketweave holster, which contained Vaccari's department-issued Oleoresin Capsicum (OC).
- Black basketweave case, which stored Vaccari's department-issued belt recorder.

WEAPON / MAGAZINES / AMMUNITION:

On Vaccari's right hip was a black holster with a Glock 21, Generation 4, .45 caliber semi-automatic handgun, serial number STM044. Attached to the handgun was a Surefire 300 tactical light, serial number A127112.

Vaccari removed his handgun in my presence and rendered it safe. There was one live hollow-point cartridge in the handgun's chamber, headstamped with "WINCHESTER 45 AUTO." The ammunition magazine, from the magazine well of the firearm contained 13 cartridges. All 13 cartridges were hollow-point cartridges and headstamped with "WINCHESTER 45 AUTO."

Three spare ammunition magazines were located on Vaccari's Sam Browne belt. The first magazine contained 13 live hollow-point cartridges. The headstamp of each cartridge was labeled "WINCHESTER 45 AUTO." The second magazine contained 13 live hollow-point cartridges. The headstamp of each cartridge was labeled "WINCHESTER 45 AUTO." The third magazine contained 13 live hollow-point cartridges. The headstamp of each cartridge was labeled "WINCHESTER 45 AUTO." Seavey photographed Vaccari's handgun, four magazines, and ammunition.
